

LUXPONT

STRATEGY & CAPITAL

A lifetime's efforts now reside in a single country.

Your business, your properties, and your accounts depend on a single government, a single currency, and a single set of laws.

What took decades to build can be lost in just a few years.

It doesn't take a catastrophe. A change of government is enough to change taxes, the currency, and legal certainty. And when that happens, your wealth is the first to suffer the consequences: the business, the properties, the accounts.

As long as everything lives in a single country, every six-year term once again puts everything you've already earned at risk. That is the real exposure.

Your assets don't need to move quickly. They need an architecture.

The solution is not just to move your wealth out of Mexico.

It's to move it out the right way—so it resides where the legal framework supports it and keeps generating returns, without depending on a single place to sustain itself.

You need an international, legal, and documented structure that protects your wealth, keeps it at your disposal, and allows it to keep growing—no matter who governs.

Anticipating is the best investment. At Luxpont, we know it.

Stop depending on a single place.

You don't build this piece by piece.

We design and operate your group's entire European structure and take responsibility for it from start to finish: from the first draft to the bank account up and running.

An architecture only protects when a single firm builds it from start to finish and stands by the result.

CROSS BORDER CAPITAL ARCHITECTURE™

Our method defines three things: who truly controls your wealth, where each asset resides, and how it endures from one generation to the next.

You receive a structure that operates on three fronts.

Designed with our proprietary methodology, Cross Border Capital Architecture™, so each front stands on its own.

I

European banks recognize it

Accounts are opened seamlessly because the structure arrives fully documented.

II

Tax authorities respect it

Everything is legal and declarable. You sleep peacefully in Mexico and Europe.

III

You control it

Control remains where it should be: in your hands and those of your family.

The day your environment moves the board again, you won't have to react.

Your wealth will already be abroad—organized and in your hands, ready for whoever comes next.

CROSS BORDER CAPITAL ARCHITECTURE™

A first conversation.

Every architecture is tailored to your wealth, your family, and your goals. These decisions are better made in advance than under pressure.

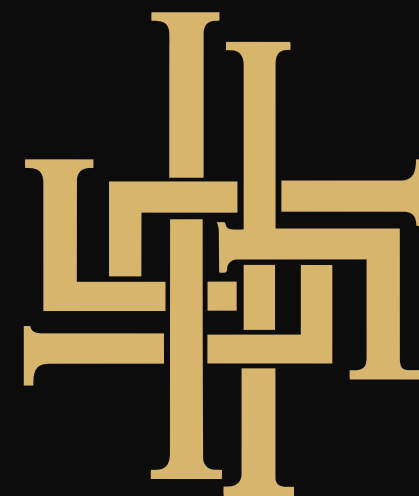

A first conversation allows us to understand your situation and frankly tell you whether Luxpont is the right firm for you.
